JOB'S DAUGHTERS ENTERTAIN CROCKER CHAPTER MEMBERS

Last Monday evening the members of Crocker Chapter No. 382, Order of the Eastern Star, spent a very pleasant evening at the Masonic Hall, when Bethel No. 26, Job's Daughters, made a visit to the local Chapter, and delighted the large audience with the splendid manner in which they exemplified their initiatory work.

The girls of Bethel No. 26 are unusually proficient in the ritualistic work, and won the parise of their elders for the manner in which they conducted the initiatory ceremonies. The girls were so pleased with the opportunity to appear before the local Chapter that they presented Worthy Matron Louise Aitchison with a much appreciated gift in recognition of her invitation for their appearance on this occasion.

The members of Crocker Chapter in charge of Monday evening's program were Elsie Faulkner, Hattie McKendry, Henrietta Palmer, Annie Swan and Rosetta Evensen.

ENTERTAINS AT NEW HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Hilary J. Forde entertained friends and relatives at their new bungalow residence, 369 Knowles avenue, on Sunday evening, March 16, in honor of St. Patrick's day. Among those present were Mrs. T. J. Lyman and daughters Marie and Evelyn and sons Leo and Harold, Mr. and Mrs. Miller, daughter and son, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Forde Mrs. Rose Waymire and daughter Marion, Thomas Walsh, John Forde and Baby Peggy, who was the life and honored guest of the party. All decorations were in green and very elaborate. Mr. Hilary J. Forde, who was formerly employed at the Daly City Theatre, is now employed in various San Francisco theatres.

CELEBRATE THE TWELFTH ANNIVERSARY OF WEDDING

A birthday and wedding anniversary dinner was given by Mr. and Mrs. F. Gildhop last Saturday, at the family home on San Diego avenue, it being the twelfth anniversary of their wedding. The dinner was served at a tastefully decorated table at 8 P. M. After the repast the raminder of the evening was spent in playing games and dancing. The guests were A. Johnsen, Bud Larsen, W. B. Kelley, Mrs. J. McLean, Miss E. Ferrera, Miss A. Giomi, Miss Eleane Giomi, Violet and Edward McLean and Delbert Kelley.

JEFFERSON'S NINE AGAIN VICTORIOUS

The Jefferson high school baseball team celebrated Saint Patrick's day by defeating St. Peter's high, 4 to 1, on the Rolph diamond.

Displaying a fairly fast breaking curve and good control, Ralph Enszlin, Jefferson's pitcher, held the opposing batters in check at all times. The local chucker struck out nine men, allowed four hits and issued three bases on balls.

The Jefferson infield combination, composed of J. Gibbons, Vireno, Varni and Conti, is making a better showing in every game. Monday they supported Enszlin without a single error. Joe Conti converted seven chances into assists to show up the rest of the quartet.

None of the Jefferson batters were outstanding in this contest. Jack Gibbons collected one hit, as did six other Indian batsmen. His long single in the first inning drove in two runs, giving him any edge possible for the batting honors.

One of the St. Peter's batters, H. Squarer, collected a triple in the sixth frame, driving in the Catholic school's only run.

LOCAL K. OF C. CELEBRATES ITS FIRST ANNIVERSARY

Last Sunday was spent by the members of Daly City Council No. 1712, K. of C., in observing their first anniversary. About sixty members received communion at the 8:30 mass in Our Lady of Perpetual Help church, and later sat at a breakfast prepared by the ladies of the parish in the parish hall.

The afternoon's activities centerd at Eagles Hall, where Supreme Warden D. Supple and State Deputy R. MacKenzie conferred the third degree on a class of seventeen. This is the third class of third degree initiates to be taken into the local K. of C. Council, and a finer class of men would be hard to find.

A banquet of corned beef and cabbage was served in the evening by a committee of members and ladies of the parish. David Supple, acting as toastmaster, called upon the following for short talks: Rev. James Donohoe, Rev. Frank Lynch, G. K. Thomas Callan; District Deputy Jerry Lalor, G. K. Woodfelt of Berkeley Council, Director of Publicity Fred W. Williams, Financial Secretary Si Ashe of Mission Council, P. G. K. Henderson of Golden Gate Council, and State Deputy Robert A. MacKenzie.

Retain Good Government

Good government ranks first in importance among community assets, and, when attained, should be kept in force through hearty co-operation and the approval of the electors from time to time as the occasion arises.

Daly City has at this time an efficient and harmonious administration of its city government. Possibly a clearer record of guardianship and achievement has rarely come before the citizenry of any community, as much of lasting good has been accomplished during the incumbency of our present officials.

Thousands of new citizens have come to Daly City during the past few years, and the boundaries have been extended to bring in many more, thus bringing added responsibility and necessitating the enlargement of the police force and putting in of additional water services and mains.

A rare aptitude for keeping pace with the growing job has been apparent in the work of our city officials, and plans are being made all along the line for improvements and betterments.

Monday, April 14, will be an important day in the affairs of Daly City. On that date the voters will elect three Councilmen for a four year term, who will handle the business of our city.

To each in his place and for conscientious work, the Record extends its hearty endorsement to the three incumbent candidates, Councilman A. J. Dalton, Mayor H. H. Smith and Councilman Julius Twesten. They are in every way qualified to transact the people's business, and to satisfactorily fill the important positions for which they offer themselves, and to which they have unselfishly given a great deal of time and effort in the work of establishing and improving the chosen city of their homes.

Their candidacy has been based upon their merit and worth only. These men are able to point to long records of usefulness and painstaking and faithful performance of duty.

In electing City Councilmen, we should be guided alone by the factor of fitness, and should not be animated by any personal consideration, but should aim at the abiding welfare of our commuinty. These men have demonstrated that they are wholly qualified to sit in the councils of our City Fathers.

These men come before the electors on April 14 with a record of honest and efficient administration of the affairs of the city. They have proved worthy of the confidence reposed in them. Reward faithful service. Vote for and retain Councilman A. J. Dalton, Mayor H. H. Smith and Councilman Julius Twesten—and Good Government.

HAS CLOSE CALL IN AUTO CRASH

Mrs. W. A. Lee, of Risel street, was the victim of an accident at Mission and Persia streets early last Sunday morning, March 16. Mrs. Lee was returning from the San Francisco Ferry, where she had taken some friends to meet the Oakland boat. Another machine, driven by a salesmen for the H. S. Crocker Co., hit the safety buttons while going at a fast rate of speed, swerved from one side of the street to the other, and finally struck Mrs. Lee's new Ford and demolished it. The driver of the speeding car was badly injured. Both Mrs. Lee and the salesman were taken to the Mission Emergency hospital.

The salesman and his companion were later booked on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Mrs. Lee was badly cut by flying glass from the broken windshield, it seeming only a miracle that she was not thrown through the windshield. She was also very bady bruised all over her body, and is suffering from shock. Mrs. Lee's many friends hope to see her home soon, fully recovered.

DELIVERS ADDRESS ON CHILD PSYCHOLOGY

On Thursday, March 13, the Crocker Parent-Teachers' Association held its monthly meeting in the Daly City Theatre building. Their distinguished visitor, Mrs. De Gouchy, who is the assistant of Dr. Lillian Martin of San Francisco, spoke on "Child Psychology." To say that she is well versed on the topic of her speech is putting it mildly. All those who were fortunate enough to hear her felt amply repaid for the time spent. She speaks very informally. One felt at ease in bringing their problems to her. At the conclusion of her address she gave a recess in which those who had child problems were permitted to bring the subject up and she gave sound advice which should aid in the solution of these problems. After the recess the business meeting of the organization was resumed.

A nominating committee was appointed as follows: Mrs. Grantham, Mrs. Boyle, Mrs. Watson, Mrs. Tompsett and Mrs. Lewis. The nominating come are to select the new timber and bring in their suggestions for those who are to fill the offices for the coming year. The work of the nominating committee is difficult. It is not always the best policy to choose an official for efficiency only, but one who has charm and ability, rather than just ability.

Many visitors and new members were noticeable in the large audience.

After the conclusion of the business meeting Mrs. J. Jordan gave an interesting report on the work of the district meeting, where she had been sent as a delegate, while the refreshments were being enjoyed by those present.

BOARD APPROVES MILK ORDINANCE

Inspection of all milk sold in San Mateo county will be made hereafter by the San Mateo milk inspector and a levy of a quarter of a cent a gallon for all milk sold by retailers will be imposed, according to the new county milk ordinance adopted last Monday by the board of supervisors.

The new ordinance was adopted after several dealers had appeared and spoke favorably for it. Those opposed wanted the board to insert a clause making it mandatory that all milk sold in the county be pasteurized in the county. This the board refused to do on the advice of District Attorney Franklin Swart.

The old ordinance contained such a clause, but it was never enforced. It also provided for a collection of fees by the milk inspector for his work, many of which were dodged by the dealers and lost to the county because the old law provided no enforcement measure.

Under the new law, however, every dealer will be compelled to pay his assessment directly to the tax collector. Should the dealer refuse to pay, his grade A privilege will be denied him, thus seriously crippling his business, as the new ordinance maintains that all milk sold in the county must be inspected.

The Emerald lake fire district decision was postponed for one week, as was the Millbrae water issue, which has been postponed off and on ever since it was introduced. The Atherton sewer proposition was set aside for three weeks.

Mrs. Edna H. Yelland, county librarian, sent her resignation to the board to become effective March 31. Mrs. Yelland expects to tour Europe in the near future and upon her return informed the board that she would reside in Berkeley.

INTERESTING SERVICES AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Continuing wiht his subject, "Who is God?" the pastor of Grace Presbyterian church will continue the exposition of his text, "In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth." The unfathomed depths of this text still fills the thinking mind with wonder in spite of the common belief that science has rendered the Bible obsolete. Come and judge for yourself. The boys' choir is improving and is planning to sing every Sunday evening at the 7:15 service. Grace church believes in happy, vital religion. Do you like to sing the old hymns, then you want to visit this wide-awake church. For the services of the future a glee club from the Los Angeles Bible Institute is planning to sing. A missionary working in the wilds of California will give an address on the 30th and tell the audience some amazing things about the little known California wilds.

JOB'S DAUGHTERS THEATRE PARTY TO BE HELD MARCH 26

A monster theatre party is to be held by Bethel No. 26, Order of Job's Daughters, at the Daly City Theatre on Wednesday evening, March 26. The main attraction will be four select acts of vaudeville. There will be two shows, one at 7 and one at 9, each featuring the vaudeville, comedy, news reel and main feature. General admission is 25 cents. Tickets, which you must be sure to get, may be bought from any member of the Bethel, or at the box office on the evening of March 26.

PARTY IN HONOR OF BIRTHDAY

Last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. George Rode, of Wellington avenue, entertained in honor of their son, who celebrated his third birthday. The table was beautifully decorated in St. Patrick's green. A bowl of green carnations formed the centerpiece, and little green shamrocks filled with bon bons were placed before each guest. After supper the older folks enjoyed a game of cards, while the youngsters played games. Little Bobby was the recipient of many lovely gifts. Those who enjoyed the afternoon and evening were Mrs. Mary Rode, Mr. and Mrs. E. Rider, L. E. Rider, Mrs. G. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. James Fay, Master Buddie and Miss Helen Fay.

TANFORAN WILL OPEN GATES TO THOROUGHBREDS

Tanforan will open its gates on Saturday, April 5, for thirteen days of thoroughbred racing, was the announcement yesterday by the Pacific Coast Breeders' Association, through its secretary, Dr. Charles E. Jones. Announcement was made that the meeting would be underwritten by a group of wealthy breeders and sportsmen of the state under a plan drawn by the American Trust Company, which will be the depository of the association.

This plan will be on the lines of the underwriting for the preliminary work of the Community Chest, and for the Symphony Orchestra, Civic Opera and other semi-civic organizations. These underwriters are willing to accept a loss for the privilege of showing the produce of their farms to the people of the northern part of the state.

The statement of Dr. Jones follows:

"The Pacific Coast Breeders' Association will proceed to work out its pretentious program with the co-operation of the leading sportsmen of the state and the business men of San Francisco. It will oppose to the fullest of its powers the coming into the state of professional promoters or undesirables of any character.

"We have had a most cordial reaction from the business men of the coast area. Over 250 of them have signed an agreement to associate themselves later into a corporation to be known as the California Business Men's Racing Association. This corporation will probably be a million dollar concern and when organized we will turn the Tanforan property over to a holding company and continue ourselves as an operating company as we are organized not for profit. These merchants do not care whether the racing makes money or not. They believe that twenty-five days of racing in the late fall will bring great numbers of wealthy sportsmen who now go to Florida. These people will be a wonderful stimulus to Christmas shopping, as experience has shown that people buy their presents in the city in which they happen to be. A short spring meeting, also, will draw and hold tourists of the better class.

"Judge Joseph A. Murphy has consented to direct the meeting for us. We have instructed him to secure a staff of officials of unblemished reputation and permit on the track only horsemen and jockeys who are on the honor role of all reputable tracks. We have impressed on him that ours is a sporting proposition pure and simple. We wish to demonstrate that we can conduct racing on as high class a plane as any other sport, that we can attract the best class of people and maintain as perfect order as at any other public gathering, and that we can reproduce the colorful scenes of Saratoga, Belmot Park, Arlington and other fashionable tracks of the world.

"It shall be our purpose also to conflict as little as possible with baseball, football, and other sporting events, and work in harmony with all racing organizations.

"Our racing will be conducted strictly within the law as construed by the Superior Court of San Mateo county."

EAGLES ARE PREPARING FOR ANNUAL CONVENTION

A convention committee meeting of the Associated Aeries of San Mateo County was held in the office of Attorney A. J. Stebene, of Redwood City, on Wednesday evening of last week. The five associations were well represented, there being twenty delegates present.

The following delegates were appointed on the various committees to represent San Mateo county in the forthcoming Grand Aerie convention to be held in San Francisco from August 11 to 16. A. J. Stebene, of Redwood City, chairman and finance; J. Reynolds, of Redwood City, and A. J. McSweeney, of South San Francisco, were chosen to act with Mr. Stebene; A. J. THE GIRLS' SPORTS CLUB MEET

The second meeting of the Girls' Sports Club was held at the home of Hazel Friend on Thursday, March 13. Plans were made for a roller skating party to take place on the following Saturday evening. The members of the club went to the Golden Gate ballroom and spent a most enjoyable evening roller skating. The next meeting is scheduled to be held two weeks from date at the home of Alice Burr, president of the club.

HIGH SCHOOL TRUSTEE ELECTION ON MARCH 28

At the regular monthly meeting of the Jefferson Union High School Board of Education held at the high school bulding last Tuesday evening final arrangements were made for the election of high school trustees, which is to take place throughout the High School District on Friday, March 28.

There are two members of the board to be elected at that time. The terms of Mr. Truman Bentley and Mrs. Lila Brown expire. Mr. Bentley and Mrs. Brown are candidates to succeed themeselves.

Mr. Bentley is at present chairman of the Board of Trustees. He has served the district for six years as a high school trustee. During this time all of the construction work on the school buildings has been done. Throughout this period Mr. Bentley has been able to render the district invaluable services owing to the fact that he is a practical builder. He has been able to bring expert knowledge and experience to bear in the solution of the numerous problems involved. These have included not only the cost of construction but also the details of the work in architectural designing and planning. As a result of such help the Jefferson Union High School has a record for low cost and efficiency in building that is unsurpassed by any other high school in California.

Mr. Bentley is a man of university training and is equally competent in the educational work of the school. Added to this, his practical experience in the line of industry gives him a modern viewpoint which is rare and is exceedingly valuable in the solution of the complex problems of modern secondary education.

In attendance to duty Mr. Bentley has a record that cannot be beaten. Throughout his two terms as high school trustee he has never missed a meeting of the board. In addition he has given unstintingly of his time upon all occasions in the fulfilment of his duty as school trustee.

Mrs. Lila Brown, who is the other candidate for re-election, has served the high school district faithfully and well throughout the past three years. She has taken a special interest in the equipment of the school, in its management and control, both from the point of view of a trustee and patron of the school. A woman of broad experience, in deep sympathy with every effort to deal constructively with the educational and social problems of our high school, Mrs. Brown has served the district faithfully and well.

The election of high school trustees will take place in conjunction with the election of grammar school trustees in each of the districts forming the Jefferson Union High School District. Election booths will be at the following schools: Visitacion Valley Grammar School, Crocker Grammar School and Buena Vista Grammar School, Daly City; Jefferson Grammar School, Colma; Rockaway Grammar School, and San Pedro School.

COASTSIDE MAN FOUND DEAD

Don't call a man lazy too hastily. The poor fellow may be suffering from voluntary inertia.

One bone of contention at the peace conference seems to be the matter of limiting the size of soda fountains on battleships.

INTERESTING SERMONS AT CALVARY CHAPEL

Rev. Charles Woessner announces that the following will be the services at Calvary Baptist Chapel, 5724 Mission street, this coming Sunday.

In the morning: Sermon, "When a Man Must Face God." As the poet stands before nature; the philanthropist before humanity; the artist before beauty, and the scholar before knowledge, so do all men stand before God. We are all standing in His presence. Those who have accepted His Son, Jesus Christ, as their personal Savior, have already begun to live the everlasting life. To those in His kingdom the final change will be little. It will be an ushering in after his final benediction has been spoken: "Well done, good and fatihful servant, thou hast been faithful over few things. Enter thou into the joy of thy Lord." All mankind must one day stand before God; host beyond host, rank behind rank, the millions who have lived upon the earth, all standing crowded together in the indescribable presence of One who looks not merely at the mass, but at the individual. As man will in the last day stand before God, likewise does he stand in God's presence each day. Only through Christ's mediatorship can man feel His presence. As man's heart becomes purer, the more keenly and steadily conscious will he become of God's presence. Only through a complete repentance and a willingness to acknowledge one's self a sinner, followed by an acceptance of Jesus Christ, who has atoned for man's sins, can the individual escape the horrors of the final day of judgment.

In the evening: Sermon, "The God That Nobody Knows." Men become like the gods they worship. The Greeks and their gods of old give us a good example. At the time of Paul's ministry there was little that was transcendent in the moral life of the Greeks. In the irony of fate when their intellectual life was at its highest point their moral life was at its lowest. Their gods did not represent high moral standards. Mankind as a whole still worships its gods. Many ideas and dogmas have become as really an idol, a god, as one built of stone or wood. There have been as many gods as races of men; each era and human condition has its god. "Man is certainly mad," said Montaigne, "he cannot make a flea, and yet he will be making gods by the dozens." All because man has not worshipped the true God. Man must learn that He cannot be pictured or defined. "God is a spirit and they that worship Him must worship Him in Spirit and in Truth." Man can go no further than "feeling Him." This is the only way of knowing Him.

Announcing Another P·G·and E· Electric Rate Reduction

$2,400,000.00 Saving to Consumers

Now, electric rates for consumers of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company are reduced over Two Million, Four Hundred Thousand Dollars a year.

Lighting rates are cut to a maximum rate of 4½ cents per kilowatt hour for incorporated areas, with a similar reduction in all areas.

The new rates are of greatest benefit to the small consumer—the residence user, stores and offices. Substantial reductions have been made in commercial, industrial and agricultural power rates. Street lighting rates are reduced.

Domestic combination rates for consumers using lighting service and in addition having electric appliances for heating and/or cooking, are as low as 1½ cents per kilowatt hour. The new commercial lighting schedules provide for lighting rates as low as 2 cents per kilowatt hour.

These new schedules providing lower electric rates are designed to encourage liberal usage of electricity at low cost. The new rates are among the lowest obtainable anywhere.

ELECTRICITY IS CHEAPER — YOU CAN USE MORE — MAKE IT YOUR SERVANT

Let electricity brighten the gloomy corners. Let it do the cooking, ironing, washing. Let it sweep the floors, operate the electric fan, drive away chills. It will percolate the coffee, make the toast. keep food warm or cool and wholesome.

Modern electric appliances bring comfort, convenience and economy.

Have Kidneys Examined By Your Doctor

Take Salts to Wash Kidneys If Back Pains You or Bladder Bothers

Flush your kidneys by drinking a quart of water each day, also take salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much rich food forms acids which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken; then you may suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids, to help cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

Don't neglect a COLD

DISTRESSING cold in chest or throat—that so often leads to something serious—generally responds to good old Musterole with the first application. Should be more effective if used once every hour for five hours.

Working like the trained hands of a masseur, this famous blend of oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other helpful ingredients brings relief naturally. It penetrates and stimulates blood circulation, helps to draw out infection and pain. Used by millions for 20 years. Recommended by doctors and nurses.

Keep Musterole handy—jars and tubes.

Italy Planting Trees

Italian school children planted 1,200,000 trees in 1929, says Arnaldo Mussolini, brother of the duce, who is chairman of the national forestry committee. "Feasts of the forests" were held in 4,325 communities, chiefly those denuded of trees in the World war.

Makes Life Sweeter

Children's stomachs sour, and need an anti-acid. Keep their systems sweet with Phillips Milk of Magnesia!

When tongue or breath tells of acid condition—correct it with a spoonful of Phillips. Most men and women have been comforted by this universal sweetener—more mothers should invoke its aid for their children. It is a pleasant thing to take, yet neutralizes more acid than the harsher things too often employed for the purpose. No household should be without it.

Phillips is the genuine, prescriptional product physicians endorse for general use; the name is important. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. registered trade mark of the Charles H. Phillips Chemical Co. and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

Production of school textbooks in the State printing plant saved the State $289,284.45 in 1929, Lyman M. King, director of the Department of Finance, has reported to Gov. C. C. Young. The number of textbooks produced during the year was the largest in the history of the printing plant, totaling 1,956,284 volumes, King reported. This exceeded the 1928 total by 324,477 volumes. King's report placed the total cost of printing and distributing the textbooks free to pupils at $312,545.66. This included actual production costs, plus the 5 per cent depreciation surcharge, the royalty, and the Board of Education's overhead of 10 per cent for distribution. It was estimated by King the cost of the books would have been $601,810.11 had the State purchased them at publishers' wholesale rates. The saving effected was 47 per cent. In 1928, the saving was 36 per cent, and in 1927 it was 42 per cnet. Two of the series of child-story readers, the primer and the first reader, cost the State 24 cents per volume for the primer and 27 cents per volume for the first reader, the report said. Had the State purchased these books instead of printing them, the price for the 174,797 primers would have been 51 cents each, while the 175,55o volumes of the first reader would have cost 54 cents each, it was declared.

Although production of gold in California dropped from $11,671,018 in 1927 to $10,785,315 in 1928, the State continued to account for approximately 26 per cent of the nation's output, Fred G. Stevenot, director of natural resources, has reported to Governor Young. All of the fifty-eight counties contributed to the mineral output, he said, and there were fifty-four minerals produced, exclusive of those classed as gems. More petroleum was produced in 1928 than in the previous year, the report showed, but the value was lower, due to the low price of crude oil prevailing during the year. Production increased from 231,195,774 barrels to 231,811,465 barrels. Value decreased $30,736,818, it was shown. Production of natural gas increased from 224,686,940,000 cubic feet, worth $20,447,294, in 1927, to 260,887,116,000 cubic feet, valued at $22,260,947 in 1928, Stevenot reported.

Children CRY for it

It may be the little stomach; it may be the bowels are sluggish. No matter what coats a child's tongue, its a safe and sensible precaution to give a few drops of Castoria. This gentle regulation of the little system soon sets things to rights. A pure vegetable preparation that can't harm a wee infant, but brings quick comfort—even when it is colic, diarrhea, or similar disturbance.

And don't forsake Castoria as the child grows older. If you want to raise boys and girls with strong systems that will ward off constipation, stick to good old Castoria; and give nothing stronger when there's any irregularity except on the advice of a doctor. Castoria is sold in every drugstore, and the genuine always bears Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper.

Any COLD

That cold may lead to something serious, if neglected. The time to do something for it is now. Don't wait until it develops into bronchitis. Take two or three tablets of Bayer Aspirin as soon as you feel a cold coming on. Or as soon as possible after it starts. Bayer Aspirin will head off or relieve the aching and feverish feeling—will stop the headache. And if your throat is affected, dissolve two or three tablets in a quarter-glassful of warm water, and gargle. This quickly soothes a sore throat and reduces inflammation and infection. Read proven directions for neuralgia, for rheumatism and other aches and pains. Genuine Bayer Aspirin is harmless to the heart.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY

On March 17 St. Patrick's day is celebrated as the national festival of Ireland and its observance is more or less general among Irishmen and their descendants throughout the world. The date is said to be that of St. Patrick's death, but even the year is not known, although it is thought to have been about 469 A. D.

According to tradition, however, St. Patrick was born in Britain and played an important part in introducing Christianity into Ireland, after six years in slavery into which he was sold by hostile Scots, who abducted him at the age of about 16.

Finally making his escape, he decided to devote his life to the conversion of the Irish. His mission as a priest began about the year 425, and he became a bishop about 441. His ministry is said to have been attended with much success, hence his designation as Ireland's patron saint, although not an Irishman himself.

Among the traditions connected with St. Patrick is that he used the shamrock to illustrate the doctrine of the Trinity. Another, entirely fanciful, is that he drove the snakes out of Ireland.

Whatever the truth about these matters, the living fact is that the name of St. Patrick is revered by Irishmen the world over, who commemorate him by "the wearing of the green" on each 17th day of March.

Mr. Aylesworth predicts that the radio will help to establish peace. He evidently hasn't been tuning in on KWKH.

HOPES FOR PEACE

It is only the truth to say that the results of the London naval conference which has been going on for several weeks have been rather disappointing so far even though the interruption caused by the fall of the French cabinet be considered.

While the United States and Great Britain have been more in accord than heretofore, France, Italy and Japan have shown a disposition to make demands which it seems difficult to reconcile.

In spite of all the expressions of a desire for naval reduction by the five powers concerned, the old feelings of distrust and jealousy still exist to a marked degree, so that as this is written the success of the conference is very much in doubt.

Whatever the outcome, it can hardly be said that the United States and Great Britain have not shown a conciliatory attitude. Yet the very fact that they are fairly in agreement has caused suspicions among the other nations concerned, which seem to fear that the two English-speaking countries will form an alliance and seek to dominate the world, although they have strongly denied any such intention.

The people of all nations hope for continued peace. Will their statesmen prove equal to the task of making it secure?

Falling five stories is generally accompaneid by disastrous results, but James Neiland, of New York, did the stunt with only slight injuries. Two radio aerials and a leaning fence retarded his descent to mother earth.

ROAD LIGHTING URGED

Electric lighting of county highways to increase their efficiency reduce accidents and aid night flying is urged in a recent proposal by Louis J. Brooks prominent Missouri farmer and first president of the state's hard road association.

The idea is said to have been favorably received by Federal state and county highway officials, many of whom feel that the lighting of roads is a logical forward step in the development of the nation's highway system.

Electric engineers recommend powerful roadway lamps placed at intervals of 100 yards, which it is estimated would add about five per cent to the average cost of paved highways.

Special legislation would be required to permit lighting to be included in expenditures for roads, it is said, but already three state, New York, New Jersey and Georgia, have laws authorizing such expenditures in the more populous counties. Detroit claims to have already 345 miles of lighted rural highways in its vicinity.

It seems that road lighting would fit in admirably with the general program of rural electrification which is now going forward rapidly in many states.

HERE'S A RECORD

There is a remarkable firm of general merchants in the little town of Clear Lake, S. D., which probably holds the world's record for consistent and adequate advertising in a community of its size.

English & Towers have carried a full-page advertisement in the Clear Lake Courier every week, without a miss, for twenty years. They have contracted for a similar space for each week of 1930.

Yet Clear Lake is a town of only 835 population in a county with but 8,759 people, with two newspapers. The extent of the firm's advertising with the other newspapers was not stated in the source of our information, but it is reasonable to suppose that it was considerable.

From their extensive and persistent advertising, English & Towers appear to be pretty thoroughly sold on the proposition. As the Courier says: "We have proven to their satisfaction that large space in the newspaper regularly brings correspondingly big results."

TAX RETURN EASY

A Daly City man says he worried a good deal about making out his income tax return until he finally hit upon a simple formula, which he now offers free of charge to any who may be perplexed in future.

He listed as dependents one blonde wife, a sedan car, three gold-fish and two children. He then multiplied his grandfather's age by six and seven-eighths, subtracting his telephone number. Next he added the size of his hat and subtracted the number of his car. After these preliminaries, the rest was easy.

Deducting $1,000 for keeping his wife a blonde for the whole year, he divided the remainder by the number of lodges he belonged to, multiplied by the electric lights in the house, divided by the size of his collar.

This gave his gross income, which, after dividing by his chest measurement and subtracting his blood pressure, gave the net amount owed to the government.

UNFAIR TO SUFFERERS

Arousing false hopes in the minds of cancer victims by publishing premature reports of alleged cures is "nothing less than criminal," according to a recent statement by a leading medical journal.

The statement was issued because of misleading reports of experiments by Drs. Coffey and Humber of San Francisco, which have been given wide publication in the daily press. As a result many cancer sufferers have journeyed to California at great expense, only to find that their hopes were in vain.

Some interesting developments have been made by the doctors named, but they themselves have repeatedly stated that no actual cure has been found. By means of certain injections they have caused some changes in cancer cell structure to take place, but this has been done before without much practical benefit to the patient.

With scores of earnest scientists continually working on the problem, it is reasonable to believe that in time cancer may be conquered, but up to the present about the only hope of the patient is to have the growth removed by the knife while in its early stages.

ANNUAL CHURCH DINNER AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

On Thursday evening, March 27, at 6:30, Grace Presbyterian church will hold her annual dinner and meeting of members. The cost will be 50c and 25c a plate. At this meeting the work of the year will be reviewed. It will be held in the newly renovated social hall, which is now most attractive in its bright colors. The dinner will be prepared by the ladies of the church and nothing will be left to make the dinner a success. The friends of the church are cordially invited.

OPENING OF WELL BABY CLINIC

The Daly City Children's Health Center, a "Well-Baby Clinic," was opened on March 19 in the Crocker P. T. A. club rooms in the Daly City Theatre building. This clinic is supported by the Crocker, Woodrow Wilson-Vista Grande and General Pershing Parent Teachers' Associations, in conjunction with the San Mateo Chapter, American Red Cross.

It is supervised by Dr. Hildegarde Henderson, assisted by Mrs. Emilie Lohr, school nurse for the Jefferson school district. It is largely through the efforts of Mrs. Lohr that this clinic is successfully organized.

Dr. Henderson, whose salary is paid by the San Mateo Red Cross, is a very capable clinic physician and baby specialist. She has served in the Children's Hospital Clinic of San Francisco. She has a charming manner, which was greatly appreciated by the mothers who attended with their babies.

Fifteen babies and pre-school children were examined, ranging in age from two and a half months to 5 years, including one pair of twin girls 4 months old. Sixty per cent of these children were perfect babies, which again proves that there is no better place to raise a family than Daly City.

Crocker Parent Teachers' Association, who originally sponsored this "Well Baby Clinic," took charge of the opening day, under the direction of Mrs. Julia V. Jordan, chairman of the clinic board of directors. Mrs. Jordan was assisted by a committee consisting of Mrs. Maynard Chesney, Mrs. W. L. Lewis, of Crocker P. T. A.; Mrs. Emilie Lohr, Mrs. Wm. Sherwood, Woodrow Wilson-Vista Grande; Mrs. A. C. Olivar, Mrs. Rose Watson, of General Pershing P. T. A.

All feel that this clinic is a big step in the advancement of our city. It is a project for which there has been a long felt want in the community.

The three sponsoring associations wish to invite all those who have infants and children up to 6 years of age to take advantage of this excellent opportunity of keeping their small children in good health by attending this clinic, which will be held the first and third Wednesdays of each month in the Crocker P. T. A. club room on Mission street, in the Daly City Theatre building.

SCHOOL CHILDREN STUDY FOREST FIRE PREVENTION

Local school children are being given an opportunity to study the problem of diminishing forest fires in California through the essay contest being conducted throughout the state by the Stop Forest Fires Committee.

As a stimulant to public interest in the great fire hazard to forests and fields that will be experienced again this summer, pupils of the public schools are being given the option of writing essays of 350 words on the subject: "What I will do to help prevent forest fires." A grand state award of $100 and a bronze medal will be given to the writer of the best essay in any school grade from 7 to 12, while to the school to which the grand state award winner is a pupil a suitably inscribed bronze medal will be awarded. Essays must be handed in before March 31, 1930.

In addition to these prizes, others totaling $300 are offered by the Stop Forest Fires Committee of California which represents the U. S. Forest Service, U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, National Park Service, State Division of Forestry, State Division of Parks, State Highway Commission, County Supervisors' Association of California, Automobile Club of Southern California and California State Automobile Association. The American Forestry Association is offering the medal awards.

WILL BEGIN TAKING CENSUS ON APRIL 2

The United States Census for Daly City, Colma and the town of Lawndale will be taken beginning April 2. This is of the utmost importance to every community, as by this census return we will be judged as regards population for the next ten years.

The enumerators for this work will be local people, whose names will be made known through these columns within two weeks' time.

There are thirty-two questions on the Population schedule, and 232 on the Farm schedule, and your enumerators need all the assistance you can give them.

Dr. Willard C. Bailey, of San Jose, supervisor for the Tenth district, has arranged with Postmaster Violet Ver-Linden at the Colma post office to have preliminary sample population lists distributed to every family before March 31.

When the enumerator calls in April, your information should be ready for him. Anyone in the household can give the information for the family, or a neighbor, if necessary.

BAY WATERS YIELD MAGNESIA PRODUCT

Development of a new process for manufacturing magnesia compound from the waters of the bay is announced by the Marine Chemical Company in South San Francisco. The company has recently secured a large contract for its products and has found it necessary to double the capacity of its plant. A new tank of 600,000 gallons capacity is being installed and within a short time the plant will be operating night and day. During the war the plant was known as the Catalytic Chemical Company.

"A CONTINENTAL NIGHT" AT THE CURRAN THEATRE

Fay Marbe, favorite of Europe and "darling of Broadway," comes to the Curran Theatre, San Francisco, for a one week engagement beginning Sunday, March 23, in her unique offering, "A Continental Night," in which literally speaking she is "the whole show."

An American by birth, Miss Marbe is now making the first tour of her native land. For over four years Europe held sway to her magnetic charms. She created a furore in all the capitols "over there," and has played by command before the Kings of England, Spain and Italy.

Her first engagement in America was at the Belmont Theatre, New York, where she was to play for two weeks, but that "cold, hard metropolis" would not let her go. They kept her there for three months by packing the theatre at every performance.

Not only is Miss Marbe said to be extremely clever in any one of the seven languages she has at her command, but her costumes, designed by herself and created by Poiret of Paris, are a distinct novelty. Eleven trunks and twice as many bags are her traveling equipment.

Her repertoire, the same she gave in Europe, consists of song and dance successes from Paris, Berlin, London and Vienna, plus a little American "jazz."

It is said that muffs are to be stylish again. Which will be welcome news to a good many baseball players.

GRAY HAIR IS EASILY DARKENED

Tells How She Did It With a Home-Made Remedy.

Mrs. E. H. Boots, a well-known resident of Buchanan county, Ia., who darkened her gray hair, made the following statement:

"Anyone can darken their gray or faded hair, and look twenty years younger with this simple remedy, which they can mix at home. To half a pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, one small box of Barbo Compound and ¼ ounce of glycerine. These ingredients can be purchased at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair every other day until the gray hair is darkened sufficiently. It does not color the scalp, is not greasy, and does not rub off. It will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger."

Students of eugenics might find some interesting material for investigation in connection with the family of Herman Bogue and his seven sons, who live in Lamouille county, Vermont. The shortest of the eight men stands 6 feet 6 inches in height the tallest 7 feet 2 inches.

The goal of the Senate seems to be to provide at least one investigator for each citizen who is not on the public payroll.

The Crippled Lady of Peribonka

By James Oliver Curwood

WNU Service (©, 1929, Doubleday Doran & Co., Inc.)

STORY FROM THE START

Introducing some of the people of the pretty little French-Canadian village of Peribonka, particularly the Crippled Lady, idol of the simple inhabitants. Paul Kirke is a descendant of a sister of Molly Brant, sister of Joseph Brant, great Indian chief. He has inherited many Indian characteristics. His father is a powerful New York financier. Paul marries Claire Durand, daughter of his father's partner. He is in charge of engineering work near Peribonka. Paul's wife is in Europe. She dislikes the woods. Paul becomes interested in Carla, village teacher. Paul writes his wife to join him. Carla's mother, long an invalid, dies.

He had written to her immediately after the death of Carla's mother, and toward the end of the fortnight he sent her another letter. He wanted her more than ever, and in this last letter, his third since he had heard from her, he told of the loneliness of the great house, its emptiness, its coldness, and how only her golden presence could bring it back to life. Inspirationally he made a suggestion. If she would come back and spend only a little while with him upon the Mistassini, he would take her anywhere she might want to go when the job was off his hands—around the world, if that would please her. It would be rather wonderful, wouldn't it? Around the world—just they two! He asked the question with almost boyish hope and earnestness.

He was glad when the day arrived for him to leave for the Mistassini, for there seemed to be something of homeness about the pit for him now. The company boat met him at Roberval, across the lake. When he first caught the gleam of sunlight on the white, bare walls of the monastery at the mouth of the Peribonka, he felt as if a soothing and friendly influence had come to possess him.

A press of business awaited him at his office, and not until the day after his return did he see Carla. She was among her children, in the closing hour of school in the afternoon. The tragic strain which he had observed in her face before her mother's death had disappeared. A deeper and more permanent thing had taken its place, and though it was less poignant, it stirred him for a moment with a sensation of uneasiness, as if he had personally lost something. He could not tell just what it was, then or afterward. She seemed older, as if he had been away two years instead of two weeks, and he felt, in an unaccountable way, as if a distance as wide as the pit itself had come between them. Even the little tremble of gladness in her voice when she greeted him did not dispel this effect.

He walked with her to the cottage, and she gave him flowers for his office, and when he returned with them and put them on his desk, he was oppressed still more by the sense of having missed an important and necessary thing which he had expected to find when he came back to the pit. He was sure that Carla had been glad to see him. But she was not the same Carla he had taken over the blueberry plains to Peribonka. He doubted if she would personally come to his office with flowers again.

In this he was mistaken. She came on Saturday morning with an armful of asters. Another night or two of frost and they would all be gone, she said. She asked about Claire, and they talked for a few minutes of his visit to the city. She did not speak of her mother, or Peribonka, or anything that had to do with herself—except her flowers and her school. As she arranged the flowers she bent over his desk so that the silky head which he had stroked with his hand was very near him, and suddenly he felt himself overwhelmed by a flame that left no part of him untouched. When Carla's deft fingers finished their task, she found Paul looking at her with a face that was wholly Indian once more. He thanked her as he might have thanked her a year ago. His hand touched hers for just a moment, and a swift throb came in Carla's throat. Their eyes met, Carla's faultlessly clear and pure and filled with a shining light—Paul's with a somber, settled grimness far back in them.

At his door they paused another moment. Then Carla left him.

It was her last visit to his office.

Within an hour after she had gone Paul was driving to Peribonka alone. The roads had hardened, and he made it quickly in his car. The asters and a bunch of roses which had come to him from Roberval he placed on Mrs. Haldan's grave. Carla had been there, for the grave was well cared for and covered with flowers from her garden, most of them faded and shriveled by the frosts. These he gathered in a cluster and placed in a pot by themselves, near his roses. He remembered that Carla loved flowers even when their color and life were gone.

He made no effort to blind himself to the fact which had leaped upon him so irresistibly when he had looked at Carla's head bent over his desk. The futility of such evasion struck him with almost equal force. He wanted Carla, and that want was as much a part of him as his vision or his sense of the obligations of life. It was she who had brought him back to the Mistassini with a feeling that he was on his way home. His regard for her was not a sudden irruption brought about by a physical or emotional restlessness, which might have been stirred by her nearness and her beauty. He could look back and see where it had been growing in him slowly over a period of three years, so slowly that it had not been difficult for him to escape its true significance. But now there was no longer the possibility of either avoidance or self-deception. He knew that Carla meant more to him than friendship, and that only a miracle had held his arms from taking her into them.

He also believed that a flash of understanding had come into her eyes when she looked at him and saw in his face the grim shadowing of the fight which from that moment he was bound to make.

After this Paul was more than ever filled with the desire to go among the men and work with his hands, and he was seldom in his office. Every muscle in his body yearned for the strenuous activity of work which he saw piled upon others, and he let down the bars which his position had compelled him to accept, until, at times, one coming upon him in the pit would have taken him for a laborer. He was skillful with the ax, and one day late in October he had finished hewing a saddle into a heavy timber when he turned about to find Carla standing a few feet away, looking at him. She had come to the far edge of the pit to find the father of one of her boys, and for a moment it seemed to Paul that he caught in her face a look which bridged in a few seconds the abysmal gulf which he had felt growing between them since her mother's death. He went to her, breathing quickly because of his exertions, and Carla laughed softly, almost with a little triumph in her throat, when he showed her his hands blackened by pine pitch.

He went to Peribonka frequently during these autumn days, and once a week he had flowers sent to him from Roberval for Mrs. Haldan's grave. Carla knew of his visits to the little cemetery, and Paul made no effort to conceal them from her. He never went on Sunday, which was Carla's day with her mother. When she tried to express to him the depth of her gratitude, he talked as if it were the spirit of his own mother he was thinking of when he took flowers to Peribonka. But he felt he was not hiding the truth from her, and was rather glad of it. It was a satisfaction for him to know that Carla was conscious of his thoughts about her. It made his fight easier, gave it a certain thrill, which comes to a man when he is aware that some one he cares for is watching him. And the knowledge of it could not harm Carla, in whose life another love had fastened itself so securely that no corner of her heart could be filled with an emotion responsive to his own. They made no effort to avoid each other, except that he did not take her to Peribonka and she did not come to his office any more, and one day when they were together he asked her frankly why she did not marry. No sooner were the words spoken than he was sorry. He could see the hurt flame up for an instant in her eyes, like a fire from which a curtain had been suddenly snatched away; and then it died out, leaving her face a little whiter, but smiling at him gently, as if she were apologizing for letting it affect her in that way. Then she told him it was almost traditional in their family that a woman should have but one love. And she had loved a man, still loved him, with all her heart and soul, though he was gone from her forever. The love had come into her life a long time ago. She emphasized this fact, gazing away from him with her long lashes veiling eyes filled with mystic visions.

Nigerian Women Hold and Exercise Powers

In Yorubaland, Nigeria, women wield great power, having a very perfect franchise. In every village, additional to the head chief and his council, is the head woman, or iyalodi who also has her council of titled women. In her hands lies the responsibility for issuing the native admnistration orders to the women.

The potters, who are all women have a guild, and it is their prerogative to be buried in their pottery.

KNUTE ROCKNE IS SLATED FOR RAISE

Salary May Be Increased in Fall to $20,000.

Knute Rockne, who, he admits, needs only a few more years before he will be able to retire in comfortable circumstances, is due for a raise in salary this fall, according to comment among prominent Notre Dame alumni.

Rockne has been a pathfinder in cashing in on the by-products of football coaching, but he has never received a salary in proportion to his worth.

Yielding to pressure and influential alumni, the authorities of Notre Dame university are expected to announce sometime before next fall that Rock's salary has been increased $5,000, or perhaps doubled to $20,000.

The amount of Rockne's present salary was revealed in a unique manner at the close of the season last fall.

A story got out into the newspapers that Rockne was receiving a percentage of the gate receipts. In his prompt denial Rockne said: "I don't get a cent of the football receipts. All I get from Notre Dame for coaching its football team is a salary of $10,000 a year."

The most artistic faking done in any sport has been delivered in wrestling.

Few boxing bouts that were ever framed went off without the look of suspicion.

In other sports it is equally difficult to fake and "make it look right."

Wrestling differs. Someone said years ago, "The only interesting wrestling bouts are the crooked ones. The dullest sight in sport is a wrestling match conducted on the level."

Wrestlers (at least some of them) have boasted that they could fake a match so cleverly that no one, including promoter and managers, would be aware of the dishonesty.

However, there is one way in which the genuine can be told from the fake and that is in the grip. Any experienced wrestling referee will be able to distinguish a genuine match by the way the two wrestlers grip. They grip lightly when faking.

The former Dartmouth ace, who is now studying law at Oklahoma university, wrote to Connie Mack that he was quitting baseball at the request of his father, a judge in Tulsa, for the bar. Mack had expected to send him to a minor league for experience.

Breckenridge found a year with the champions quite profitable. He was given $5,000 as a bonus for signing a contract, $5,000 for salary and slightly more than $5,000 as his share of world series money. He turned in something like six or eight innings of big league pitching and a few innings of exhibition work.

Art Clusinier, brother of the famous "Bo," is a guard on the Wisconsin freshman basketball team. This team also includes another potential "Stretch" Murphy in John Surquist, who stands a mere 6 feet 6 inches tall, while more than a dozen of the 80 survivors on the squad stand around 6 feet 3 inches.

Oklahoma Girl Strong as Boy

"Louise Alice was fretful, nervous and all run-down from whooping cough," says Mrs. F. J. Kolar, 1730 West 22nd St., Oklahoma City, Okla. "The little I could force her to eat wouldn't ever digest. She became underweight, sallow and weak.

"Then I decided to try California Fig Syrup, and the results surprised me. Her bowels started working immediately, and in little or no time she was eating so she got to be a pest at the table, always asking us to pass things. Her weight increased, her color improved and she began to romp and play again like other children. Now she's the picture of health, and strong as a boy."

Pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable California Fig Syrup acts surely and quickly to cleanse your child's stomach and bowels of the souring waste that is keeping her half-sick, bilious, sallow, feverish, listless, weak and puny. But it's more than a laxative. It tones and strengthens the stomach and bowels so these organs continue to act normally, of their own accord.

Over four million bottles used a year shows its popularity. Ask for it by the full name, "California Fig Syrup," so you'll get the genuine endorsed by physicians for 50 years.

All in One Day

The unique circumstance of becoming simultaneously a mother, a grandmother, and a great-grandmother occurred to a woman in Hungary. According to the newspaper, Vasvarmegye, the woman—who is an elderly peasant—her daughter, and her granddaughter had each given birth to a son on the same day.

Millions now use Russ Ball Blue. Makes clothes snowy white. Get the genuine.—Adv.

Finds Youth's Fountain!

"JUST one thing has contributed more than anything else in my life toward making me the radiantly happy woman I am today," writes Mrs. Walter Ruehl, of Glenbrook, Conn. "If this was selling at ten dollars a bottle instead of the few cents it costs, I would scrape the money together, and I don't mean maybe!"

"I guess a good many others feel the same way, judging by the number of people I know who swear by this 'Fountain of Youth.'"

Millions of people all over the world have discovered this simple secret, which is nothing but giving our bodies the internal lubrication that they need, as much as any machine. After you have taken Nujol for a few days, and have proved to yourself how it brightens your whole life, you will wonder how so simple a treatment can make such a great change in your health and your happiness. The reason is this:

Regularly as clock work, Nujol clears out of our bodies those poisons (we all have them) which slow us up, make us headachy, low in our minds.

Colorless and tasteless as pure water, Nujol cannot hurt you, no matter how long you take it. It is not a medicine. It contains no drugs. It forms no habit. It is non-fattening.

One Happy Woman Tells Where She Discovered It

Try Nujol yourself and see how much better you feel. Get a bottle in its sealed package at any drug store and be sure it's trademarked "Nujol." It costs but a few cents—and it makes you feel like a million dollars! Start taking Nujol this very night!

EXCELLENT ARRAY OF SHOW HITS AT DALY CITY THEATRE

Tomorrow matinee and night will be the closing performances of the great Vitaphone outdoor special, "The Gerat Divide," that has had such a successful run at the popular playhouse. By all means if you have not seen this delightful picture play that features beautiful Dorothy Mackaill, then see it tonight, before it leaves the Daly City Theatre, if you desire to hear it on the excellent Colorart talking set.

For Sunday, Henry B. Walthall, who won everlasting fame as the Little Colonel in "The Birth of a Nation," will appear in "The Phantom in the House," a dramatic talking attraction of excellence, with a great supporting cast of players, including Nancy Welford and Ricardo Cortez.

For Monday, Eddie's Advershow will present another of his riotous comedy contests, along with the delightful vaudeville offerings and the useful gifts. The screen attraction for Monday will be a double feature affair. The talkie is "Dark Skies," and features Wallace McDonald, and the silent is a hard-riding Western, "The Fighting Terror," with Bob Custer.

For Tuesday, playing the one day only, Sally O'Neill and Johnny Mack Brown will appear in Radio's "Jazz Heaven," a delightful musical play of the "Our Modern Maiden" type.

Wednesday night Job's Daughters will have the Daly City Theatre in a big vaudeville and picture play party. There will be three acts of vaudeville, and the picture will feature Richard Arlen in "The Man I Love," with Mary Brian.

Thursday and Friday will bring those incomparable lovers of the talkie screen, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and Loretta Young, in the First National Vitaphone special, "The Careless Age."

On every bill there will be some exceptional talking and singing short subjects, together with the latest and best of the silent News subjects.

HEAVY TOURIST TRAVEL ANTICIPATED THIS YEAR

California's reputation as the "Motoring Paradise of the World" is expected to be supported by an even heavier influx of motor tourist travel this year than the record volume that crossed the state's borders last year, according to the California State Automobile Association. The motorists organization reports that approximately 510,000 visiting tourists traveled into California last year in some 170,000 automobiles.

State records show that these visitors came from every state in the Union, from Alaska and Hawaii and from Brazil, Canada, Cuba, England, France, Germany, Italy, Japan, Mexico, New Zealand, Panama, South America and West Indies.

There were more than 90,000 visiting cars that were issued temporary permits, but as the law does not require a permit to be issued unless the car remains in the state ten days, it is evident that thousands of cars were not registered officially as being from out of the state. Thousands of other cars, it is estimated, disregarded the law in ignorance and did their touring without obtaining a temporary license.

New Zealand had the smallest representation with only one car, while the state of Washington led all others with 11,312 cars registered. Oregon held second place with 9,600 cars, and Colorado was third with 6,000 motor vehicles. Twenty other states sent more than 1,000 cars each.

The far east was well represented, however, as New York sent 3,240 cars and Pennsylvania 1,800 touring parties. Little Rhode Island, the smallest state in the country, sent 138 cars.

It is expected that the number of cars from foreign countries visiting California will increase rapidly in the future as facilities for shipping automobiles are constantly improved. The Touring Bureau of the California State Automobile Association reports that inquiries indicate that the coming summer will bring a large increase in the influx of motorists, not only from foreign countries, but from the eastern portion of the United States and from Canada.

GAS PROGRESS

During 1929 the use of manufactured gas for domestic purposes increased 4.4 per cent, for house heating 51.7 per cent, and for industrial-commercial uses 11.8 per cent, over 1928.

Approximately 360,000 new customers were added during the year, bringing the total to 12,200,000. To serve these customers $4,750,000,000 is invested in the industry, and it is expected that by the end of 1930 the total investment will be in excess of five billion dollars.

This is the industry that, when electricty was first harnessed for use, was expected by many sages of the time to go out of business! As a matter of fact, electricty co-operated in gas progress. At the present time gas is employed in well over 20,000 irdustrial processes and is an integral factor in the modern home and factory.

During 1929 the most outstanding progress was made in the field of house heating. Hundreds of thousands of progressive Americans have found in gas a clean, efficient and reasonably priced heating agent that is immeasurably superior to the old-fashioned furnace.

It's so useless to worry. After frantically searching for his wife who had disappeared, a New York man found her securely protected by a Los Angeles policeman, whom she had married.

A cold proposition reported from a hotel in Iola Kan.: Three refrigerator salesmen registered on the same night were named Coldsnow, Coldiron and Winter.

FIRE FIGHTERS MEET IN SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO

At the regular meeting of the Associated Firemen of San Mateo county in South San Francisco we were very fortunate to have with us Lieut, Benedict J. Newel, chief inspector of San Francisco Fire Prevention Bureau, who gave us a very instructive talk on fire prevention. After commending very highly the splendid work of Daly City regarding the educational campaign in fire prevention he said:

"Gentlemen, it is with pleasure that I rise to say a few words in behalf of fire prevention. Being actively engaged in prevention work for a number of years it has become an obsession to me and I feel like a crusader of old who must spread the gospel whenever opportunity offers. Fire prevention is a well recognized and established task of every fire department today. That is the reason every large city has established a fire prevention bureau with well defined powers and jurisdiction over all matters pertaining to fire appliances and fire control. While large cities have made wonderful strides in fire prevention work most of the smaller communities have neglected to do this work in an aggressive way. There is no good reason why this should be so. The justification of fire prevention can not be questioned. It is a well known fact that improvements in fire fighting methods will come at a much slower pace than in the past. Meantimes our fire losses are constantly on the increase. A solution for this problem must be found. Preventing fires rather than fighting them appears to be that solution. The cost of maintenance of a fire department is a severe drain upon the budget of any municipality and is constantly increasing. Fire fighting with the best possible apparatus is a very costly undertaking. The point is rapidly approaching where additional expenditures for fire equipments will give less and less return. This is not so in respect to fire prevention. For a long time will elapse before this activity will reach the line of maximum utility. Many cities found themselves confronted with higher cost for fire fighting equipment without a correspondent drop in fire losses or for fire prevention with excellent possibilities of obtaining a large drop in losses. Fire prevention is therefore a self-evident necessity. It stands on an equal footing with the prevention of plague of wars and crime. It is an essential of good business and capable management and every city official and particularly every fire chief should give the problem his intense consideration. I was informed some time ago that the San Mateo County Firemen's Association has already taken a progressive step by the formation of a prevention committee. Permit me to congratulate you and let me urge you to continue. The road will be hard at times and progress will seem slow, but in the end you will have the satisfaction of having given something to your community that is of lasting benefit. I thank you."

Submitted by V. Savelly, Fire Prevention Committee of San Mateo County Firemen's Association.

Captain Paul Kern, a Hungarian officer who was wounded by a bullet which penetrated his brain in 1915, has not slept since, according to a press report, although he is in good health and works every day in a government office. His only complaint is that in passing his spare hours in night clubs his living is too expensve.

ARRESTS TO FOLLOW FAILURE TO GIVE SIGNALS

Failure to give proper arm signals will result in arrests of motorists throughout the state, according to an announcement made Monday by the California Committee on Public Safety.

Co-operating with the committee in its continuous campaign to reduce traffic fatalities and injuries are the California highway patrol and police departments throughout the state.

For the first ten days of the present month the committee, through the press, radio stations, moving picture theaters and service clubs, has issued instructions to motorists in the proper giving of signals. Street cars and busses have carried the slogan, "Accurate Arm Signals Avert Accidents."

Simultaneously with enforcement of the arm signal provision of the California vehicle act, enforcement agencies will make arrests for failure of motorists to keep in the proper traffic lanes when making left and right hand turns.

In March a year ago thirteen deaths and three hundred and seven accidents resulting in personal injuries were caused by failure of motorists to observe these provisions of the law, according to the committee.

One of the finest feats of heroism ever performed by an American sailor is recalled by the death of Lieutenant Mons Monssen, retired. In 1904, when a gun turret of the battleship Missouri blew up, Monssen saved the entire ship from destruction by leaping through the flames into a magazine, closing a heavy door and isolating the fire. He was an enlisted man at the time, and received the Medal of Honor for his gallant act.

Sitting as police judge, Adam Smith, of West New York, N. J., heard his son, Adam Smith, Jr., charged with violation of prohibition laws, possession of gambling equipment, and attendance at a stag smoker where there were indecent carryings on. The father placed the son under $1,500 bond to await action by a grand jury.
